From Secretary's Desk

Dear Friends and Well Wishers

What a difference a year makes! The Year 2020-21 will be defined as the year of the Coronavirus and the lockdown that followed. For us at the GRIRR, it has been year of learning how to deal with sudden upheavals and... unpredictability. It was Also an opportunity to find new and creative ways to continue and improve on our work with children. We have had to put a pause on many programs and postpone many visits to the children. But the year has been full of innovation good program and positive steps forwards. While we continued in our resolve ,to train more volunteers to save lives during normal life emergencies, we realised our responsibility, to ensure that lives are not lost due the COVID impact, GRIRR took upon ourselves to spread the awareness of compliance requirements, to keep the pandemic at bay apart from the regular life saving skills program. We are deeply grateful to all our partners, Kolkata Gives, PWC India Foundation, Goonj and humanities group and several individual donors - who have stood by us the children and communities we serve in this hours of need. Through lockdown after lockdown the GRIRR had to expand its initial effort to support families that required food ration, we saw the need to reach out to out communities, to give our children and their families much needed information, mental health solace, and a sense of stability and direction. We also start our rehabilitation work in Bihar state at Chapra (Saran) district distribute Rahat ration in flood and 2 wave covid lockdown. PwC India support us to start skills and livelihoods in that our target was 50 mothers but due to lockdown most of parent lost their jobs, so involved 120 women's in mask productions supported by Goonj, Kolkata. It was a steep learning curve for out team and the children as well. First we reached out to our staff connecting with them on the phone, giving them a sense of purpose and belonging. They Formed an important platform to connect with the community and explore and respond to some of the anxiety and personal questions this new pandemic was raising. Post COVID GRIRR will go back into our communities having learned valuable lessons. We have strengthened our belief that this world needs healing, needs people to care for each other. That is what we are doing. This is the social fabric that we are helping to stitch back together, if as seem likely our world will see more global and local upheavals, we must find strategies to continue to build community, trust and social bonds even when we have to be physically distant. Please think of us as we continue this important work in difficult times and join us in any way that you can. The children of disabilities of the mountains and the entire GRIRR team thank you deeply for all you do.

PHYSIOTHERAPY

Over the years we have observed that a large section of our patients suffer from various orthopedic problems like spinal and knee – pain and injuries. With a view to address the problem we launched our physiotherapy department in Garden Reach. Physiotherapy not only relieves the pain of orthopedic patients but also addresses neurological disorders such as stroke, cerebral palsy, multiple sclerosis, Parkinson's disease and cerebral palsy. Physiotherapy treatment, through its therapeutic exercises, improves the strength, range of motion and corrects postural and muscle imbalance, joint mobilization, manipulation and soft tissues massages, as well as stretching and trigger point therapy to reduce stiffness and relieve pain. In a country like India where physiotherapy is not readily available to poor people. Our physiotherapy service is breaking grounds and reaching out to the underprivileged sections of the society.

SPECIAL EDUCATION FOR CHILDREN WITH DISABILITIES

Special Education refers to a range of services that can be provided in different way and in different settings. There's no "one size fits All" approach to special education. It's tailored to meet the needs of students with disabilities. Special Education focuses on helping children with disabilities learn. But it doesn't mean placing Children in a special classroom all day long. In fact, federal law says that kids who get special education services should lean in the same classrooms as other kids as much as possible. This is known as the least restrictive environment (or LRE) the services and support for one student may be very different from those of another students. It's all about resources the need to make progress in school. For example, some students may spend most of the day in general education classroom. Others may spend just an hour or two in a resource room working with a specialist. And others might need to attend a different school that specializes in teaching kids with learning disabilities. Kids who qualify for special education have an Individualized education Program (IEP). They get individualized teaching and other resources at no cost to their families .specialist work with kids on strength as well as challenges .And families are key members of the team that decides what kids need to thrive in school.

HEALTH PROGRAM

Weekly Health clinic will continue to play an important role in responding to the coronavirus pandemic and in providing access to care for communities disproportionately affected by Covid 19, Especially as job losses mount and the number of people who are uninsured or covered by Medical rises. However, key findings from the GRIRR survey highlight. The significant operational challenges health clinic are facing, which threaten their longer-term financial viability. While the emergency federal funding provided so far has aided health centre coronavirus response, secure future funding will also be important to maintain the long-term viability of the primary care safety net after the pandemic over.

WOMEN EMPOWERMENT AND COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT

VOCATIONAL TRAINING

Our vocational training workshops provide poor women with various viable livelihood skills. Last year we had started our vocational training program in West Bengal Garden Reach, Metaburuz slums of Kolkata with 1 training center at Ram Nagar Lane in Kolkata Garden Reach, Metaburuz. We have also been providing follow-up and refresher workshops in Garden Reach, Khidrepore, Maheshtala, budgeBudge enrolled in Vocational Training to improve their learned business skills.

RATION DISTRIBUTION DURING COVID LOCKDOWN

Covid-19 no longer needs an introduction in our lives, its hit every corner of the globe leaving no stones unturned. The aftermath that came with it was way beyond belief. People started losing their jobs and sooner or later the economy will crash. We clearly understand that hunger was and will always be one of the many reasons of death, especially in third world countries. But, Covid19 made it a lot worst. The lockdown was imposed and people feared the outside world. People with roofs over their heads still managed somehow, but the question is what about the hand to mouth layman? Its things like these that draw the line among us humans and this is when the humanity in us needs to step in and join hands in combating hunger more than the disease.

GRIRR ever since inception has been trying its best to assist children with disabilities families and others community women in distress to uplift the social and economical status by conducting various awareness and outreach programmes. These activities are not only in Kolkata but mostly dealt with Bihar population also. Kolkata Gives, PwC and Goonj Kolkata contribution has helped GRIRR to perform better in combating COVID-19. It has enabled us to provide basic necessities like dry ration to people in need, particularly children with disabilities and women with disabilities in the weaker section of society.

Throughout this pandemic, in the past three months GRIRR has distributed dry rations to Garden Reach, Metaburuz Kolkata and Bihar Village and Post Murar pur, Block lahladpur districts in Chapra (saran).

A total number of 2700 Households with total of 10000 individuals has benefitted from the GRIRR contributions. These rations were distributed to identify persons with disabilities and women with disabilities who are single mothers and widows and most of them are kite stick maker, daily wage earners and farmers.

Most of the women that benefitted from these contributions mostly belong to the BPL and do not possess even a ration card. With the support of the village headmen, it has enabled GRIRR to identify women who are in need of support and help during these trying times.

GRIRR's engagement with ration distributions started from the month of April.

This pandemic has brought a lot of unexpected challenges and struggles. We are grateful to Kolkata Gives, PwC India, and Goonj for lending their support in times of need and we still hope to work in helping persons with disabilities in the society when times are tough.

2020 BIHAR FLOODS

Around 38 District in Bihar have been severely affected by floods.

Heavy downpour caused all the major rivers in the state to flow above the danger mark, flooding and submerging over 200 villages so far. It has already claimed that more than 70 lakh have been displaced. Thousands of families become homeless and lot of families were stuck in different area. The were facing challenges of life and were totally cut off from each another's. ADOPT WAYS TO KEEP SURROUNDINGS CLEAN

Well, everyone love to stay in a clean and green environment and always dream of a clean and pollution free environment. Very few people make an effort to take any action to maintain a clean environment. It is our responsibility to keep our surrounding near because this will help us to live happy, healthy and with a long life. There are many ways that we can do to keep our surrounding clean since every household generates wastes, we should avoid throwing the waste everywhere. Garbage pollutes our environment, especially the plastic bags. We need to be eco-friendly by using bags that can be recycled like paper or jute bags instead of plastic bags. Since we live in the society and we are part of the environment, we have the moral responsibility to contribute to a clean environment.

COMMUNITY KITCHEN IMPACTS OF COVID-19 ON FOOD SECURITY AND NUTRITION

The COVID-19 pandemic that has spread rapidly and extensively around the world since late 2019 has had profound implications for food security and nutrition. The unfolding crisis has affected food systems¹ and threatened people's access to food via multiple dynamics. We have witnessed not only a major disruption to food supply chains in the wake of lockdowns triggered by the global health crisis, but also a major global economic slowdown. These crises have resulted in lower incomes and higher prices of some foods, putting food out of reach for many, and undermining the right to food and stalling efforts to meet Sustainable Development Goal (SDG) 2: "Zero hunger."

At the Time when the entire nation is under severe lockdown , makeshift GRIRR community kitchens are leading in Garden Reach Slums , GRIRR have sprung up across the Garden Reach community to feed street dwellers , stranded migrants and food to the needy. With the aims to ensuring no one goes hungry during Covid -19 lockdown have ramped up their operations and distributed 400 peoples food packets was being given free of cost to the weaker sections , including labourers , homeless people and the destitute rehabilitation under GRIRR Governing Body Members contributions.
